

Kieron Gillen

An appreciative audience enjoyed the final Guest of Honour talk by Kieron Gillen delivered with real enthusiasm and self-reflection.

He covered The Wicked + The Divine – his ongoing comic – and his recurring themes of gods and music. He even revealed the alternative ending to Journey into Mystery that he planned in case the run had been cut short.

Thanks from the Chair

Thank you all for attending Follycon and supporting the convention in so many ways. I've had a great time and hope you have too.

If you can, please help with tear-down after the Closing Ceremony. The more people that help out the sooner we can all get to the bar. If you can also help on Tuesday morning, please let Volunteers know in room 232.

Rail disruption

Following earlier flooding on the line between Harrogate and Leeds, all lines have now re-opened. However, some services may be delayed, cancelled or revised.

Fan fund auction

Thanks to everyone who donated or bought items at the Fan Fund Auction. Over £800 was raised, with the victors bearing away books, artwork, jewellery, games, clothing, cuddly toys, and a selection of foodstuffs.

Lost and found

Ops has accumulated a collection of lost property, including a hearing aid and some spectacles. Please reclaim your possessions.

Champion beer

In a narrow victory the favourite beer of the six sampled at GoH Christina Lake's Tasting was the Double Dark Alliance imperial stout from Bristol Breweries Arbor Ales and Moor Beer. (Hic!)

Eggs-terminated!

Newsletter is pleased that its safety recall advice has been heeded. We can confirm that the dangerous item has been appropriately disposed of (and a big thank you to Malcolm H).

Murder Mystery Clue 6

Room 5 did not contain the Doc Weir Award.

Some Babylon 5 themed Hall Costumes

An apology

We are very sorry that one of our headlines in Issue 4 made light of a serious subject.

New MA course

Anglia Ruskin University, Cambridge has a new MA in Science Fiction and Fantasy beginning May 2018. The course covers literature, film and television, linguistics, and creative writing. It is available by distance learning with one week of on-site intensive teaching, see Anglia.ac.uk/MASciencefiction

2020 bid website

<http://concentric2020.uk>

Mad Hatter's Tea Party

I was just saying to Melania that Alison and her team have run a lovely convention... a beautiful convention... the biggest I would say...much better than the conventions run by Crooked Hilary...

Donald J Trump

Overheard At-Con

Small child in lift: Does a beebear count as one of the four people allowed?

Foolscap produced by

Christine Davidson (Editor)
Morag O'Neill (Deputy)
Jan van't Ent (Print Wrangler)
Steve Rogerson (Journalist)
Al Johnston and Chad Dixon (Photographers)
Mad Elf (Technical Support)
Mark Meenan (Drabbles)
Michael Davidson (Cub Reporter)

We hope to see you in Glasgow at the end of May, and of course next year at Ytterbium, Eastercon 2019. P. S. Other Cons are available: check Ansible for details of upcoming events.

Murder Mystery Clue 7

Post mortem examination revealed a trophy-shaped wound in Alison's head, along with some strange markings that seemed to be the names of well-known fans written backwards.

Solved the case? Hand in your deduction to the Satellite 6 Con Table by 3 pm.

Foolsome praise

I pity the fool that didn't attend Follycon

Mr T

Satellite 6

...some like it hot

Three days of Science Fiction, Science Fact, and Science Fun

Guest of Honour
Paul McAuley

Crowne Plaza Hotel, Glasgow
25th – 27th May, 2018

<http://Six.SatelliteX.org.uk>